"To Be With You"

On Friday the eighth of May 1992, at the Lakeview Pavillion in Foxboro, MA, the Junior-Senior prom was held. "To Be With You" was the theme of the evening. The beautiful Queen was Missy Galimore and the handsome King Darren Daley. The stunning court included Bonnie MacDonald, Rebekah Andrews, Rachel Harris and Jen Caiazza. Oh, What a Night!

Then, suddenly again, Christopher Robin, who was looking at the world, with his chin in his hands, called out "Pooh!"
"Yes?" said Pooh.
"Pooh, promise you won't forget about me, ever. Not even when I'm a hundred."
Pooh thought for a little.
"How old shall I be then?"
"Ninety-nine."
Pooh nodded.
"I promise," he answered.
Still with his eyes on the world Christopher Robin put out a hand and felt for Pooh's paw.
So they went off together. But wherever they go, and whatever happens to them on the way, in that enchanted place at the top of the forest, a little boy and his bear will always be playing.

Class Prophecy 2010

Dear Mr. Webb and Miss Figueiredo,

It has been seventeen years since we've seen you last. You would have never guessed that the class of 1993 would have succeeded as well as we have in the real world, out of the ''wonderland'' of K.P. High School.

Let us begin with the wide world of television. Kerry Murphy and Alicia Hostetler are two successful producers at CNN. Boy were they lucky to land a job producing the new ''Jessie Williams Show'', which recently took over the ''Oprah Winfrey Show''. However, on last night's show, Patrick Weir, an obsessed fan of Jessie's, was caught in the act of stalking her during a live broadcast. Good thing Bruno Giacalone, a tough cop of Boston, was there to save the day.

On the other side of Hollywood, Eugene Peckham and Christian Richard co-own Playboy Magazine. The two hired Richard McNeil, a famous architect to design the new playboy mansion. One day, while filing through famous photographs, they came across ''Buck'' naked pictures of Mark Rogers, the star of every movie on channel 42.

Michael Lewicki, when he is not chewing tobacco, has a fishing show on ESPN. Last week he had a show on Torsey Pond in Maine, interviewing David Garcia and Keith Holster. As they cast in their reels, along came Nicole Willey, who was swimming the coast of Maine.

Craig Hurder and Ross Schold continue to show their muscular bodies in the sun, while building houses across the country. Being the nice guys they are, they offered to build a big white house on the shore of Cape Cod for Dianne Digris, Jenni Caiazza, Christine Malagrida, and Melody Ellis.

Recently Michelle LaVoie and Colleen Lester were off to the mall in Michelle's new BMW. Colleen just had to buy a new pair of boots. On their way, they passed a ten car pile up led by Mary Ann Curty. John Simmons, a wounded victim, feels no pain because he still has some sort of injury from his last accident.

Amy Evans, a divorced, stressed, mother of five, is now the owner of a day care center with Amy M. Levesque. Each morning, Leigh Devereaux, with a big bun in her hair, drops off her five kids with matching outfits and ribbons in their hair.

Recently talking to Trish Turner and Renee Gagne, workers of the airlines, we found out some news. Mike Griffin was on a secret mission on the 747, when stewardess Kristen Hasenfus blew his cover when recognizing him.

Jose DeLaRoca and Justin Dei decided to stand in line for tickets for the concert ''Squish'', a group formed to unite people all over the world. The members are Rick Parastatides, Matt Slobogan, Todd Clutterbuck, Jon Morris, and Miaki Marcin as their dancer. Kristen Masterson bumped into ''Squish'' while traveling the world making music. Julie Stanfield was seen at the concert photographing for Rolling Stone Magazine.

Julie Healey and Dena Hatch went to see the Celtics, who are co-owned by Diego Vitelli and Ryan Todd. After the game they decided to eat at High-Low Jack's, a restaurant owned by Chris McKeon and Marc Brady. Mike Masiello works in conspiracy in the back room, forming illegal gambling rings with Donny Bautz. These two have a great deal of influence in the stock market. This greatly effects Sean Dillon, a successful stock broker on Wall Street. When not wheeling and dealing his way around Wall Street, Sean relaxes and golfs at the hip new golf course owned by Jay Sumner, John White, Jason Finley, and Matt Birkbeck.

Further up north, Amy T. Levesque now owns a huge house in New Hampshire. For her next trip, she has decided to use the services of Collette Ruf's travel agency. Karen Farwell lives peacefully in a log cabin with her husband and three children. On a picnic with her kids, she spots Joe Poletto hiking through the dense forest with his troop of boy scouts.

Off the coast of Maine Olivia

Cahill and Todd Holbrook share a log cabin. On the side, Olivia owns "Liv's Place", an Irish pub with Rachel Harris and Sarah Lisauskas. Across seas, Natasha Petrie also owns an Irish pub with her husband. They keep in contact, and update each other on the latest Irish lagers.

Down in Newport Rhode Island, Matt Robinson has just financed his new ocean liner with the help of Julie Matola, a successful, wealthy accountant.

We had two Nobel Peace Prize winners from the class of 1993. Kerri Chandler has finally found a cure for AIDS, and Laura Soloway was awarded for biological accomplishments.

On the other hand, Al Elliot is in jail for the murder of Justin Shepherd over an argument proving that the answer was twelve doughnuts. While lifting weights, Al bumped into Michael Gorman who was locked up for catnapping Snickers. Ian Lemay was on his way home after serving some time.

Jen Ross, Sheila Nally, Patricia Krajewski, Andy Schafer, Jen Long, Katie Cook, and Christine DiMartino set out to Europe after graduating college. Also touring Europe, and making albums is David Putt. Marcy Fluckiger and Brook Thomas follow his band along with the Grateful Dead reading people's fortunes. While in Europe they stayed at "Rock's Bed and Breakfast", John Rockenstein's chain of hotels, known around the world as the greatest resorts. In the hotel they met up with Zach Bolinger, who is traveling the world on a Spam promotional tour.

Patricia Griswold owns a beautiful house on acres of land with her two kids. Next door she attends chocolate parties hosted by Neva Lazzara with pals Maggie Mullen, Kirsten Carlson, and Kristen Kile.

Believe it or not, our world's greatest athletes graduated from King Philip despite the records held in high school. Al Bozzo took over the position of Ray Bourque on the Boston Bruins scoring twenty goals a game. One day Al's team shared a bus with Andrea Boni's professional women's basketball team. By accident they boarded the wrong bus following the game. What do you know, it was Brian Gallerani's tour bus for "Spags". Rich Kreis finally became national champion and went on to coach the Olympic Wrestling Team. Two years ago, back at the Olympic Games of 2008, Rich cheered on Jason Heiselmeyer who is a world class triathlete grasping the gold. Jeffrey Pond offers free swim lessons to his friends' children at the local YMCA.

Locally, down at Foxboro Stadium, Jerry Monbouquette is busy coaching the New England Patriots working for an eight game winning streak. Week nights Jerry winds down at the race track where he chats with Sean Powers, who is still a faithful employee.

Kurt Branstrom and Eric Peterson, co-owners of IBM are in continual competition with Richard Bergman and his computer corporation.

Michael Crowley and Kerri Crocker, two accomplished business associates, use their skills to help Lori Tasker build Mr. Lazzara's dream house. Back in Italy, Giovanni Fontana, with the help of his sister sends architectural plans to Lori for the house.

Tanya Medeiros has built up a reputation for herself as a liberalized lawyer who defends only minority groups. Jessica Roderick and Tammy Pike will both be living healthy and wealthy in Jamica with the men of their choice. Cheri Richardson, Maura Howard and Deri Grant were stranded on a deserted island with thousands of men!

On a plane to Florida Luke Downhill met up with Michelle Bigelow. Luke was ready to check out the G-strings, while Michelle, who just became a very rich widow, planned to pick up a few men. On their arrival they hit the beach immediately. Luke recognized a few hot babes on shore. These babes were Kim Gugliotta and Tara Moore. Theresa Fumerola lives along the same shore with her four kids. At night, they all reunited at the local bar, coowned and tended by Amy Jones and Brian Keays.

Jim Kleimola, a famous race car driver, was injured badly in a race and seeked the help of Tina Bencivenga in his rehabilitation. She is the best and highest paid physical therapist in the world. He was next sent to Beverly Hills to see Jessica Slamin, a well known plastic surgeon.

Michelle Berman, living off the riches of her ex-husband, and Jeff Coburn come together as partners in a psychiatric firm. They come to the aid of Anthony Garcia who was having insane dreams of death.

Shannon Pfuhl is living in Australia working as a marine biologist. She frequently talks with Jill Canelli, often referred to as "the Jacques-Yves Cousteau of the 21'st century." Martha Buchanan was seen by the two, working as an artist in Australia. Michelle Robinson and Christina Labonte are busy trying to protect the South American rain forest. Jeannie Page is attempting to help the endangered species of the world.

Back at K.P. Tami Clinton was hired as the new Superintendent. She employed her old classmates Melana DiDomenico and Karen Wiklund as additions to her staff.

Lee Gentile has taken Captain Kirk's position as captain of Star Ship Enterprise. During one of his voyages, Lee passed by Mars to pick up Jerry Lovely, the first man ever to step foot on Mars.

Dave Huneryager, a writer for Sierra Magazine, Patricia Plumber, the photographer for Life Magazine, and Matt Galindo, an artist, get together to create an article on the upcoming Ice Age. In this article Clay Pearson is quoted "who cares, the Ice Age is coming."

Jeff Schweitzer and Andrea Hankey are environmental engineers for a local firm that sends their scrap, recyclable materials to Antarctica for the construction of Ron Grove's house. One day while skiing, Ron ran over Leah Brady's igloo.

Brian Marchionni was last seen laughing hysterically in the fetal position in a remote hide-a-way with a patch over his eye next to his friend in Herzgovina. Tracy Jacobs and Eric Dupree are working over-time at Ro-Jacks to make ends meet. Down the street at Mike's Truck Stop, Matt Mahoney and Adiesorn Lambley drink coffee at 3:00 A.M.

Colleen Snow has her own position as a disc Jockey on WAAF. She recently had an interview with Paddy O'Brien about crazy people, like herself, who own pet cows.

Jeff Doane and Amy Lehan have become accomplished engineers. However, Amy is making more money than Jeff, and every other man. Just the other day, Jeff was driving down Route 495 in his corvette when he caught up to Jen Kozak in her 240SX, Karen Bremlist in her Stingray Corvette, and Jim Nagle on his motorcycle. They were racing to Helena Moses' house because her 97 year old trillionaire husband just died of a heart attack. They thought that they had passed Jason Hoffenberg, but were reassured when told that they hadn't, because he still has not obtained his license.

Matt McCarthy, Christine Moore, Melissa Hennessey, and Chris Lyons, who just graduated from high school, caught the last train into Boston driven by Tina Udden. They were to visit Steve Laverty at the "dawg" pound.

Justin Finley, waiting for his next nervous breakdown recently seeked help from Matt Keene, a doctor in the sunny state of South Carolina. Justin Snow, flying an F14, brings Ernie Nurwilis back to Indonesia where she will use her education in engineering to make her country a better place.

Christine Castelo, where is she??????? ?????????????

Out in the western part of the United States, Jeff Dynan works as a CPA in Colorado with his wife and two kids. Meanwhile, out in California Rita Gould, the thinnest, most popular swimsuit model in America bumps into Reuben Johnson who is chilling with the babes and surfing. While the two of them were talking about the old times, they passed Chris Mollica who was still crying about something no one else understands.

In the past seventeen years, there have been quite a few people who settled down and raised a family. Lise Deberry raises an eighteen year old while running a nursery school where Craig Robinson and Lisa Mahoney send their children. Meanwhile, Jen Bauer is a typical Taurus house while raising her children. Jim Sloper raises his kids along with drawing his cartoons which made him famous.

Chrissy Strom has become a millionaire from all of the coins that she has collected off to the floor. She donates a great deal of her money to Leah Louchez's organization to save the human race from self-destruction.

Ann Grady is planning her next party along with her marriage to Michael Stipe (lead singer of REM). Katie Palos' laughter is still heard in the walls of the Grady house from the parties of our high school days.

Jeremy Cameron works overtime, night after night in the lab with Colleen Carter trying to invent a secret potion to help tame Colleen's uncontrollable afro that keeps impairing his vision.

Hope to see you soon!
Sincerely,
Colleen Carter and
Mark Rogers

Senior Class Officers

King Philip Regional High School is happy to have had the chance to have exchange students every year. We admire these students for taking the chance to come to a new school in a different country where everyday living is drastically different from what they are used to. By having them, the KP students learn of the different customs of these foreign lands. This year, we were able to have one, Giovanni Fontana. Thank you Giovanni. We will miss you!

We've grown more leaves in the cafeteria.

What makes your class so special?
We're one in a million.
We've been through so much together.
Everybody is different.

What does your class expect as seniors?
To get all of our senior privileges.
Hopefully to graduate.

"Oh What a Change"

How does this year differ from last year?
We're sophomores, not "little" freshmen.
The work is easier.
There's a bunch of seventh graders running around who call themselves freshmen.

How do you feel towards the freshmen?
I can't believe that was us last year.
They do have great class spirit.
They need to learn how to walk, so they won't always be blocking the halls.

What do you expect to happen in the remaining years at King Philip?
To get taller and smarter.
Our girls to finally notice us.
Have a fun time and get through two more years.

"Oh What a Difference"

What was your biggest worry when entering King Philip?
Getting lost.
The juniors and the seniors.
Which senior would shove me in a locker.

When you walked through the doors, what was your first thought?
Check out the babes.
It is going to be a long year.
How long before summer vacation?

What has been your most embarrassing moment?
Tripping over the rug in the lobby.
Going to guidance an hour too early.
Tripping up the stairs.

Field Hockey

The King Philip girls' field hockey team had a great season this year with a 9-11 record with Katie, Renee and Nicole as Sun Chronicle all stars. Our team captains Renee and Katie along with returning veterans, did an outstanding job leading the team in spirit and style. Both captains were named to the Hockomock League All Star team as well. This young team with unlimited potential, looks forward to yet another winning season.

Girl's Soccer

Despite missing the tourney by one game and a somewhat disappointing 7-8-3 season, we had the best record in King Philip history. Jill Canelli scored more season and career goals than any player in Girl's Soccer history. Most importantly the team came together despite many setbacks and learned that "I lovich therefore I am."

Cross-Country

Both cross-country teams started "fresh" this year, with a large number of freshmen participants. These athletes, together with returning upperclassmen, worked hard to achieve winning records. Perhaps the greatest success was our boys' victory over Foxboro for the first time in King Philip history. Both teams look forward to yet another winning season.

Cheerleading

The fall varsity cheerleaders cheer for the varsity football team and the varsity soccer team. The girls went to camp over the summer where they learned many new cheers, mounts, and ways to keep the fans in good spirit. The junior varsity cheerleaders cheer for the junior varsity football team and the junior varsity soccer team. Some of the girls from this squad also attended camp with the varsity squad. Both squads participated in the second annual Hockomock cheerleading jamboree where they both did very well. The winter squad was a young team who cheered for the basketball and ice hockey teams. All the cheerleaders did a great job in keeping both the fans and the players in great spirit.

Fun After Hours

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council consists of a group of elected students from each class who meet bi-weekly to discuss and vote upon issues of the student government. The students plan lots of activities for both the school and the community. Homecoming and class competition are two of the major events sponsored by Student Council, but throughout the year they organize school spirit activities and community services.

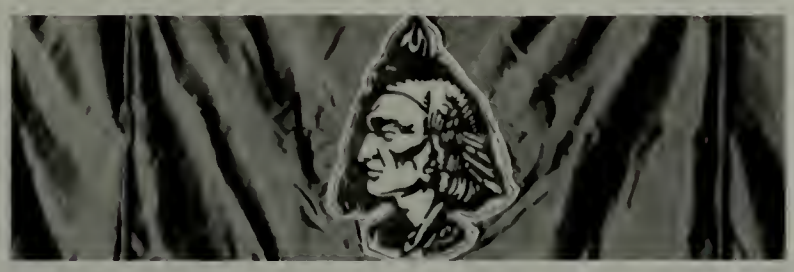
Student Advisory Committee: Loren Devereaux, Tami Clinton, Elisa Hurder, Bonnie Guay

STUDENT ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student Advisory Committee is made up of one elected student from each class. This program is to relay important School Committee decisions to the student body. One member sits on the School Committee Board and reports to the Student Council.

THE COMMUNITY ADVISORY COUNCIL

In the Community Advisory Council, faculty, parents, administrators, and students come together to create new ideas for tomorrow's students. The High on Life program has set up activities for students to have fun without the use of drugs or alcohol. These particular students get to voice their opinions as young adults to help adults understand their point of view.



Community Advisory Council: Brad MacDonald, Rajesh Pandey, Leigh Devereaux, Jayme Morris, Jill Canelli, Mr. Fairfield

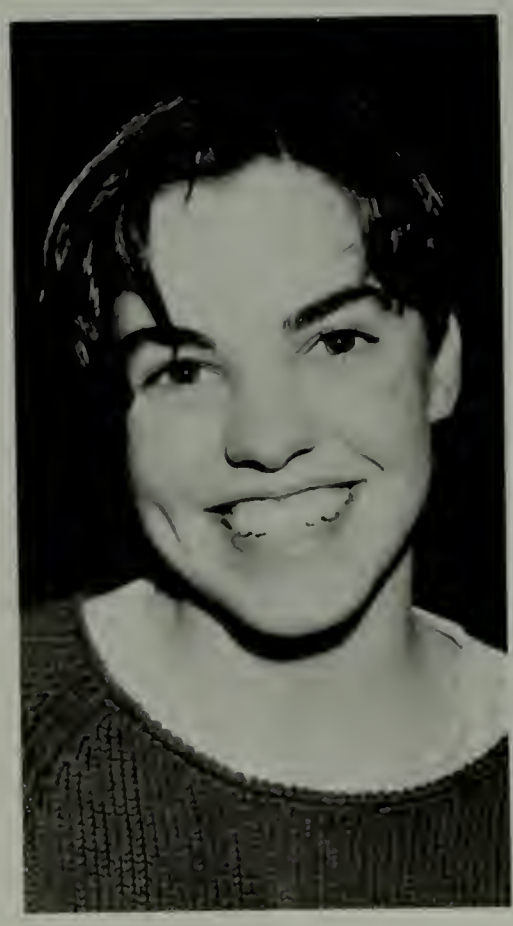
Regional Student Advisory Council: Leigh Devereaux, Bert Clinton, Heather Dumont

REGIONAL STUDENT ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Regional Student Advisory Committee consists of one or two students from each grade who are elected by their peers. Their role is to represent their fellow classmen at a monthly regional meeting. Here they can express the cares and concerns of the students pertaining to the school itself and the rights of the people who attend it.

BOYS'-N-GIRLS' STATE

The American Legions of each town chose well-rounded students to represent their communities. Approximately six-hundred students compete for political positions of the fictional Commonwealth. Through much campaigning, hearing lectures, and debating bills, essentially everyone is given a political position. This is a one week program of working hard, making friends, and having a great time.



WKPH

WKPH is exactly what it appears to be. By reading the morning announcements this group of students relay information about sports, activities, meetings, assemblies, and faculty at King Philip.

VIDEO PRODUCTION CLUB

The Video Production Club consists of students who have interests in either journalism or video production. Together with the help and supervision of Wrentham Cable Access and Massachusetts Cablevision each student creates his/her own production.

HUGH O'BRIAN YOUTH LEADERSHIP

The Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership Seminar, better known as HOBY, is a four day, three night seminar held for sophomores around the country. HOBY asks the schools involved to pick one sophomore who they feel would best benefit from the various forms of leadership, and one who they feel would best represent their school. HOBY teaches leadership skills, problem solving, and teaches students to work together as a team.

GYM AIDES

Spirit, Leadership and dedication. These are the three words often used to describe the King Philip Junior and Senior Gym Aides. These physical education lovers are chosen by the department to help the instructors and to get to know the upperclassmen. The KP Gym Aides are not only helpers but also friends and role models.

UNICEF

"Fact — 40,000 children die every day from preventable diseases." However, the members of UNICEF — United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund — are trying to change this. These caring members conduct fundraisers to raise money to send to the organization they support which, in turn, alleviates the suffering of sick and hungry children. Through awareness week and other activities, they also expose the travesties that are allowed to occur to these innocent victims.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is made up of the brightest, hardest working, and most determined students of our school. On top of achieving high grades, they are active in various sports, clubs, and activities. Their leadership capabilities enable them to put their talents to good use in order to raise money for scholarships and to represent role models worthy of much respect.

AMNESTY

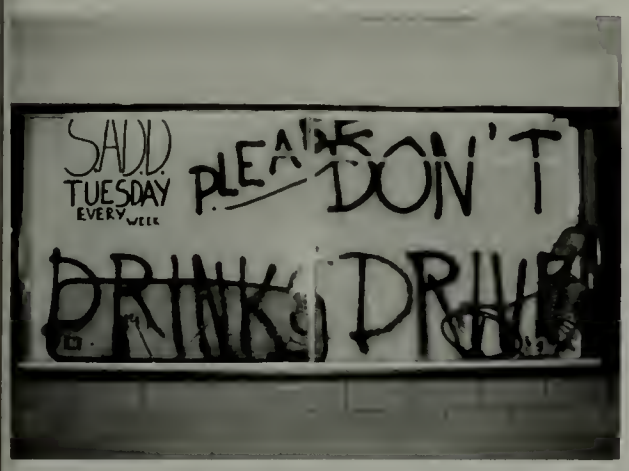
Most people cannot imagine being thrown in jail for their beliefs. But unfortunately, too many people can because they have been victims of such prejudice and ignorance. Thousands of people all over the world are denied their fundamental rights, but the concerned members of Amnesty write letters, sign petitions, and hold fundraisers to aid those who are in desperte need of help-jailed and tortured although they have committed no real crime.

SACHEM

Expressions of art word and writing are gifts that the students in Sachem, King Philip's literary magazines, share with us to express themselves. They draw on their creativity, their views of the world, and all of life's experiences.

DOLORES GAMEZ FUND

The Dolores Gamez Fund is a Spanish 3 project. Dolores is a nine year old Mexican child. She lives with her parents and four siblings in the community of Sauz in the county of Rosario which is in the northern state of Sonora. The students have a fund raiser to support her through Save the Children Inc. There is correspondence during the year.



SADD

Students Against Drunk Driving is an active group. Including plans for displays, seminars with guest speakers, their famous prom dime cards, awareness week and more. One year, they surprised us with White Out Day. A day used to express the numbers of fatalities in each day. The members who participated in this event wore white makeup and couldn't talk to anyone, this helped to show us all the gravity of the situation. (They plan to do it again this year.) SADD is an important attribute to any school. It shows that student drivers care about themselves and the rest of the driving world.

Marketing Education (DECA)

Marketing Education is a program designed for students interested in the world of business. It provides learning experience in areas such as fashion merchandising, display and promotion, food and restaurant marketing, finance and credit services, department store retailing, and entrepreneurship. Students are taught the operation of retailing through classroom instruction and retail work experience, which includes participating in the school store or working at the Wrentham Co-operative bank. Also available in this program is DECA related activities, which includes competing with other students in the field of business. The three main competitions include the districts, the states, and the nationals, all of which students from many areas come together to compete in the area of business, the nationals being the highest level of achievement.

The Marketing Education program provides an exciting challenge to those who want to pursue and achieve a business career. It helps to train students how to deal with people and how to interact in the business world.

Drafting

Dear Mr. Riley:

Drafting, a class once full, now only accompanied by a few of King Philip's future engineers is no longer a vocational program after the year 1993. We, the last four students in this class, have worked hard for projects not only in the school, but also designed calendars, insignias for the police/fire departments in other towns and even made a booklet for the Needham Soccer Tournament. These projects not only took skill, but involved learning work which familiarized us with the cooperate game (not to mention becoming good friends). Without the persuasive help from you, Mr. Riley, we would still be on a freshman level in AutoCAD. Now that we're Seniors, we plan on excelling our education in CAD/Drafting by going to college. With our four year head start in high school, we can now surpass from taking the first few courses (in CAD) after graduation.

We just want to say thanks to you for all the help and knowledge you have given us. Words can't describe how grateful we are, but in a few years we'll be able to show you by surpassing our already established talents and succeeding. Thanks again, we will never forget you.

Sincerely and Gratefully Yours,

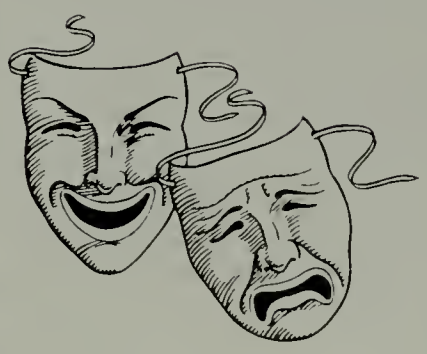
SUPERINTENDENT'S AWARD

The Superintendent's Award is bestowed upon an academically excellent senior. The requirements for this award are described by the Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents. This year, in honor her outstanding academic achievements, Laura Soloway was presented this award.

DRAMA

The King Philip Drama Club is an exciting group of many talented actors and actresses who get to show-off their ability at least twice a year with two large-scale performances directed by Mr. D'Attillo and Mrs. Huckle. The dedication and love of the theatre in each of the members helps the Drama Club put together some real award winning performances.

UNIONBAY



THE BAND

The music program consists of Marching Band, Concert Band, Jazz Band, Winter Percussion (Parallel Realities), and Winter Color Guard. The music program has earned a reputation of excellence incomparable any other music program in the Northeast. The marching band generally puts on about an eight to ten minute show. This year's show is Paul Hindemith's ''Symphonic Metamorphosis.'' The band is judged in the New England circuit (N.E.S.B.A.) and evaluated in the Massachusetts circuit (M.I.C.A.).

The marching band begins the road to excellence in early May with sectional music rehearsal. They rehearse once a week throughout the summer. At the end of the summer, the band attends a week and a half long band camp; three days at the high school and one week at a camp in Tuftonboro, New Hampshire. There the band not only learns the marching part of the show, but they also participate in other activities such as their own ''Olympic Events'' which include volleyball, basketball, and the orange pass. The class of 1994 has won the Band Olympics for two years straight.

On Nov. 1, 1992, the marching band won the third straight New England championship title for Division 2. They earned a score of 96.1, the high score of the day for all of the divisions. The band captured all of the subcaptions such as best music, best drum major, best color guard, and best percussion. The percussion line received a third-ever perfect score of 10.0. This was a second time King Philip's percussion has received such an honor.

The jazz band begins rehearsal in November, after the conclusion of marching band. They rehearse vigorously until the start of their competition season in February. This group performs both classic and contemporary jazz works. Like the marching band, the jazz band has earned state and national recognition, along with many, many gold medals.

The winter color guard and the winter percussion compete in the same circuit in the winter. The color guard has finished in the top three in their division for the past three years. The percussion ensemble in cooperation with Norwood High School received a gold medal for the one year that it was involved.

The concert band rehearses during fifth period every day. They put on several concerts throughout the year and in April they compete in a M.I.C.A. concert band festival. For two out of the last three years, this group has earned a gold medal rating.

Yearbook

Although this year started a little rocky we managed to give birth to another exhilarating yearbook. We would still be floundering and flabbergasted by page 2, without the help, guidance and patience of Mr. Caiazza and Mr. Maraghy. Thanks to all the people who stuck it through all the hard and tedious, but fun and interesting evenings. Those dedicated people were the gluesticks which put the yearbook together. Thanks also to Mrs. Cooper for being there when we needed her.

Dr. Perry Davis — Superintendent of Schools

An interview with a King Philip student.

When did you come to King Philip?
I came to the school on July 1, 1992.
Where had you been previously?
I had previously been the assistant superintendent of the Northboro-Southboro schools.
Upon your arrival, what were your first impressions of King Philip?
When first interviewed for the position of superintendent here at KP, I had done my homework beforehand and was aware of the quality of the student body. I realized that this school's reputation was based on the accomplishments of these students. I was extremely impressed with the consistent student display of spirit and pride.
Now that you have been here a few months, have these impressions altered?
No. My stay here at KP has reinforced my original impressions. At the last school committee meeting, I was able to watch a video of the school band, and was very impressed. I had been fortunate enough to see this same performance by the band in Norwood, and then again at Boston University. I've also been to athletic events . . . football, field hockey, etc. . . . and was again impressed by the display of effort. I have applauded the efforts of students in their attempt to revive the drama program here at KP, as well as the efforts of DECA and Student Council.
What do you see to be the major problem facing KP?
The struggle or challenge to prepare students for the future is the biggest problem facing King Philip. Faculty must provide students with as much as they can, to prepare them for the transition into the 21st century. In a learning society, where technology is always changing, students must be motivated towards active learning and higher education.
Do you have any possible solutions?
I don't have solutions. I know that students need more opportunity to engage in thinking skills, problem solving and group work. Because the future will call for all of the above, it is necessary to take advantage of these opportunities, to reach solutions for the problems facing us today.
Do you have any personal goals: steps you wish to take to further improve the system here at KP?
Upon my arrival here at KP, I submitted an outline to the school committee listing three areas in which I wish to work. Teaching and learning was the first of these areas most important to me, since I am foremost a teacher above all else. Within this area I hope to establish a curriculum study team to review the current curricula. My second area of interest deals with communications. Here I hope to establish clear and open lines of communication between the King Philip School District and the three communities. In addition, I hope to engage in open dialogue with teachers, students and parents as a visible educational leader. Finally, I will deal with Fiscal Management on the budget process, hoping to upgrade the present financial management system by responding to the budget goals and priorities of the School Committee and the three towns as well.
One last thing, you said you had planned to be visible to the students . . .
Indeed . . . I enjoy having an office within the school, which allows me to walk through the halls to observe and converse with students and teachers. I don't wish to be merely a picture in the yearbook, an unfamiliar face; but rather to be acquainted with the entire school body.
